

Flux opens Hi-Rel Facilities in Thailand

Bangkok, Thailand March 2007

Flux A/S invests in new competitive Hi-Rel set-up to meet the growing demand for Flux High-Reliability components.

The increasing sales of quality components for high reliability applications to aerospace and military customers make Flux A/S to invest in new facilities in Thailand.

The set-up will be also based on Flux A/S's significant experience from the Space Industry and tailored to meet the Aerospace and military industries demanding requirement for good workmanship, documentation and competitiveness.
